To whom this may concern,

I am writing this letter to inform you about my interest in applying to the Canadian Security Intelligence Service position as an aspiring web developer. I have attached my resume as a part of my application with confidence that my educational background, work experience and leadership qualities align with your company standards.

I am working towards completing my Full-Stack Bootcamp Certification from University of Toronto where I have acquired a substantial amount of knowledge in both Front and Back-end development. I have experience in a variety of project creation and debugging applications which range from creating an entire application for a healthy juice calendar to debugging a daily calendar with ability to save and delete tasks. Along with the creation and debugging scenarios, I have also obtained a strong knowledge on various languages and technologies.

I am interested in joining the Canadian Security Intelligence Service because it is well-known for allowing their employees to build professional connections while obtaining transferable skills and taking care of patients in need. Starting my career at Canadian Security Intelligence Service will help me expand my knowledge in languages and fulfill my dream of being an experience Full Stack Web Developer. I believe I can transfer the skills and knowledge I have gained and apply it to help make a positive impact on this company.

Thank you for your time and consideration. I would be thrilled to learn more about this opportunity.. Please do not hesitate to contact me through email or phone if you need any more information. I look forward to hearing from you soon.

Sincerely,

Vijithiran Navajeevayokan
